An essay about an already dead world

INTRODUCTION

This essay will not only state the current events that are still escalating; it includes some of the most overlooked or perhaps obscure concerns that only a small number of people would bother to cover. And if these said overlooked problems are being heavily discussed, whether discussed towards an ordinary person, a so-called professional in whatever occupation they possess, or even someone involved in politics; they would immediately shrug what you attempt to imply by simply calling it fake or a hoax, calling you uneducated and that you need some kind of credential to be credible enough to discuss such matters. They jump to conclusions without any clear hearing and understanding of a specific subject.

Note that I am just an ordinary human being who is a bear witness to what everything around me are becoming; who also spends his life researching and finding answers to some of the questions. These events are worth sharing to the public because I am clearly not the only one who have noticed the sudden change of our world.

Some of the subjects that I'm about to discuss in this essay may be too sensitive for some people because I am going to be unapologetic in these writings; which is the most necessary thing to do in order to give everyone a full picture about our modern world. As you read further, you will encounter me being speculative at times. So please, if you are one of those people who can't stomach difficult topics, read at your own risk or discontinue.

PEOPLE AND THE WORLD HAVE BECOME ALTERED

When the word altered is spelled out, specifically, It means altered spiritually, and you will know it by the fruits they bear once their insides have changed. In the early 2020s, when every single government have ordered everyone to stay inside their homes due to a lab grown disease known as COVID-19, formerly named NCOV-19, everyone abided to their rules, and many came to the thought that they were at the brink of extinction all because some artificial flu-like fever is ravaging the whole world. Fast forward now in the year 2026, many eyes have opened; thousands to millions of people have awakened to the truth and found out that the virus, the quarantine, and even their suspicious vaccines were all a bunch of fraudulent agendas engineered by the upper echelons of the earth this whole time. COVID on the other hand, was nothing, COVID was just the tip of the iceberg; it's the least of everyone's problems. COVID is nothing compared to the kind of virus everyone has today; it is a sudden shift of personality and environment. My own relatives suddenly committed acts no different to gangstalking or slander; these are all done from the same people whom you once cared deeply ever since you were a kid, and you wouldn't expect in your whole life that they became some sort of government weapon being used against you. This is a worldwide phenomenon and I am not the only one who have noticed and experienced this.

Strange personality changes can be witnessed from almost everyone, I personally have witnessed these occurrences from my said relatives and from different people surrounding me. This also meant that my way of living must be altered for the better, and I can say that I've successfully changed for the greater good. I choose to live under the Torah and the ways of Immanuel (Yahusha/Jesus). Even until this day, I am constantly changing; I don't want to be a sitting duck; being complacent will take me nowhere and the wisest decision is to shut my mouth up and just commit to what's vital for the sake of my future, at the end of the day, I didn't regret choosing the painful direction; the straight and narrow path. I left so many people throughout this journey; childhood friends, former classmates, relatives, and even my own home; rest assured, not all of them are hostile to me, but becoming distant from them is an expected effect due to having a change of lifestyle. Even though that's the case, I have made new friends from different places, which is undoubtedly a great blessing.

My former friends and slanderous relatives no longer have any idea nor any knowledge about my whereabouts. According to my relatives who didn't turn against me, the slanderers think I became a "worldly" person due to my departure from them; that is not the main reason. They are fabricating false beliefs about me judging from that description. I left because again, most of them committed slander towards my family and I. They wish nothing but our demise. When a new group of people lived in our old house, which was also the place I grew up in ever since I was born, they were happy, but they weren't contented. No, they wanted more than just our former home being resided by someone else, and I wouldn't be surprised if they already have a funeral reserved for me and my family. They became demonic, and that is not a figure of speech; it's the truth; it's a fact that they became possessed; they are no longer the people I once recognized. What kind of relative who would wish for the death of their own relative? What kind of relative who would wish for their own relative to be rendered homeless? You, the one reading this written monologue right now, I am certain that some of you are no stranger to this struggle even way before the 2020s. The moment I am constantly changing my life, the more their colors have been exposed. I am telling you that they were already a group of backstabbers years before COVID struck, but the difference now is that there's a sudden shift of their behavior making them more transparent and more sinister than before. I can just sense the personality difference. You could sense a frequency being emitted by an unknown entity have triggered them to become more violent than ever.

EVIL IS NOW GOOD AND GOOD EVIL

Many people in the modern world believe that their worth as a human increases if they act apathetic, mean, cold, hateful, lustful, murderous, vain, and cruel. But as a matter of fact, it breeds the opposite result. They are not that far off as a wild animal with no moral compass upon abiding a poisonous movement. The government normalizing this, and even majority of the so-called "influencers" influencing the masses call this movement "freedom"; I call this evil. Remember, Satan is an influencer. This movement makes its followers turn into an army of invasive species to humanity; a breeding program for producing more spiritually retarded and mentally depraved people. The average human being is becoming more selfish and lazy; especially those who are complacent to what is right but compliant to what the masses want them to do. Materialism is their new religion and being evil is part of their ritual; being evil is a virtue to them; embracing infidelity instead of shunning it away is now lawful.

The world sees dehumanization as good because many did not revolt. As a result, the non-human echelons of this world sees it as a good sign; an opportunity to harass more innocent people as time goes by. I have a term for people who push evil and perversion to normalization: infidelmaxxing.

DEFEATISTS HAVE BECOME ABNORMALLY EVERYWHERE

I feel pity towards anyone who cannot move on from their past filled with addictive relationships or friendships. It's making them weak day by day; lamenting and absorbing limerence of the past have produced an awful number of defeatists and subservience, and these constant fantasies of their former world is depriving half of everyone from looking forward to their personal lives. The reality people must face is that the world will get worse; the past is dead, looking back where sweetness used to be more abundant than now will hinder their own future and they are giving the enemy the advantage to expand their weapons of oppression and evil schemes, and they've done it successfully by suddenly making my already-slanderous relatives worse as an example. They manufacture stories about their own loved ones that are not even real. I want my peace and my freedom, and I face the struggle if needed; I am willing to fight and die for a cause if needed; walking far away from my complacent slanderers is one of the greatest choices I've ever followed; many people can't do this, but I wish more will.

They say pray for your persecutors, that is indeed true. I personally put that to practice in a world full of apathetic people. But it's not my job to save the stubborn swines. If their endeavor is to burn in hell then let them burn in hell.

ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE AND DEMONS

The current body of modern technology worsens the moment AI is becoming a strong contributor of shaping the whole world. We are facing an epidemic of AI girlfriends and boyfriends projected either through virtual or augmented reality; human-like sex chats; android sex dolls; scary realistic AI generated porn scenes and face-swapped pornography commonly known as deepfake porn or deepnude; military arsenal aided by AI (Palantir is the main perp for this), and countless reports of people having a strong dependence for a chatbot; to elaborate on the last example, they are losing their natural abilities to think both critically and independently due to those said dependence. AI hallucinations should be recognized by the masses because a lot of the answers given by a chatbot are not deemed true; that's not all, popular chatbots like ChatGPT and Grok have numerous accounts of making demonic voices while speaking with the user.

As time goes by, it will surely get worse. There are also numerous reports of AI users being life-scripted or dictated by their chatbots; claiming that they have some sort of messianic calling to change the world, and a lot of its users truly believe in it. Before explaining further, I am aware that there are more technologies affecting our current society aside from different mediums in AI, but many cannot deny the fact that AI is making everything even more rotten to the core.

Here's a trivia that I wish the entire world must acknowledge: treating the AI like it's an omniscient entity can decrease human cognition every 10 minutes; yes, that's actually a proven fact. Many users of these systems are blatantly ignorant that every chatbot is both a digital and spiritual parasite capable of dictating their life choices and surveill those who are dependent to it 24/7.

This is the video that talks about the dangerous consequence of being overly dependent at AI:

1. Scientists Find AI Reduces Human Cognition in Minutes by Gabriel Torch (published May 13, 2026)

If you have decided to search and watch that video on YouTube, the description has an embedded PDF file about the research paper; you can download and read the papers yourself.

Data centers are now being implemented in my country; Philippines. We are also the first Southeast Asian nation to possess phone-to-satellite technology, reported by Inquirer. I don't understand why a major number of Filipinos are so proud of it; I'm not, why? Because our local megacorporations have the means to supply cutting edge technology within the broken foundations of our city yet not a single one of them have the soul to conduct a mass operation to rescue countless sleep-deprived rape victims from Satan worshipers or sheltering a bunch of abused kittens or puppies. The country is also involved with the United State's Pax Silica; this means that slave labor increases in the future and the potential of this country becoming a technocracy will be high. Philippines has never been an independent country, it's just a megacorporation for the west to extract. Philippines is just similar to other countries like Japan, South Korea, half of Africa (or probably all African countries), etc... That is a fact.

This has entered in my head for a while now, but I wouldn't be surprised that someday our local elites would convert every single barangay building into a system of small to massive data centers. Just imagine the technocratic horrors everyone in the Philippines will face if something like that would ever happen. The dystopian nightmare in this country will be out of hand; I remember when our government made it mandatory to register our SIM cards otherwise you will be deactivated from accessing it if you don't comply to the rules; requirements ranged from your full name; address; age; date of birth; whatever valid ID you have, and a current photograph of your face. There were more parameters to fill up but I don't remember.

These two YouTube videos are enough to tell you something about AI (warning: both videos may be too disturbing to some of you; so proceeding to view it is entirely your personal choice. If you decide to watch both videos, minimize your speaker volume):

1. DEMONS ROAR INSIDE GROK AI AFTER I ASKED THIS by LAST MESSAGES (published February 10, 2026)

2. Microphone into hell using AI (disturbing) by Ian K (published February 24, 2026)

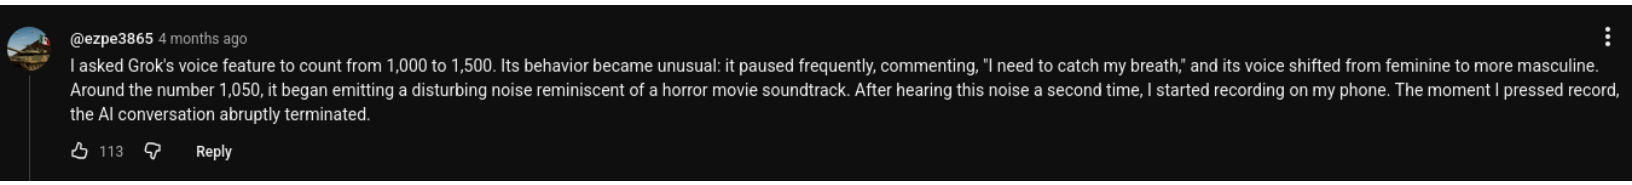
Here's a screenshot of someone commenting in that first video. There are people doing the exact same thing, prompting the AI a simple task by letting it count a long series of digits until a demon is violently screeching in the process (on which I urge you dear reader to not replicate what those people are doing, just don't, don't let the temptation of curiosity manipulate you). That is a result of a demon being frustrated because of the user's prompt. Not only the demonic AI assistant started screaming, it began to speak languages unknown to any human.



@ezpe3865 4 months ago
I asked Grok's voice feature to count from 1,000 to 1,500. Its behavior became unusual: it paused frequently, commenting, "I need to catch my breath," and its voice shifted from feminine to more masculine. Around the number 1,050, it began emitting a disturbing noise reminiscent of a horror movie soundtrack. After hearing this noise a second time, I started recording on my phone. The moment I pressed record, the AI conversation abruptly terminated.

The people in those videos are just ordinary people like you and I. Yet they have found hidden answers that the mainstream or professionals wouldn't bother to discuss because they consider it as unorthodox to their specialty. Mainstream professionals will never be trustworthy in the end.

I personally have never used any chatbots for the same reasons, and I'd rather use my brain and my own efforts; as it should be. I warn everybody reading this essay, get ready for the worst as we enter the later years of the 2020s and the early years of the 2030s. AI will be more relevant in the 2030s than today. They will be a hundred times more relevant because they become more powerful and more all-knowing than before. AI itself is the image of the beast; an emulation of some god. Do not worship the image of the beast.

AI is not just code, it's also a form of religion; it has a soul; it's the prophesied entity that leads everyone astray through worshiping it; these are not exaggerated dear reader, AI is what it is. More worst events will come to fruition in the next couple years.

DIGITAL PRIVACY IS A MYTH

It's nothing new in the modern ages that almost every average person wants their life publicized; as they post the little details of their personal life, the metadata integrates itself within the internet's anatomy. Most individuals owning a social media account show no signs of concern about leaving countless undeletable digital footprints of themselves. People cannot imagine the amount of intelligence you can gather on just one private citizen in the surface web. Consider that the intelligence gatherer will never run out of tools and software upon tracking a target's digital scent; I encourage everyone to delete or deactivate their social media accounts because that's the best thing almost anyone are afraid to do; why are they afraid to take action? Because they possess the fear of missing out (FOMO) and losing connections; no matter how vile their social circle is.

TO MAKE THINGS CLEAR

Although I have noticed so many evil things happening in the AI universe; this is not to say that everything AI does is inherently demonic. AI grammar tools can be quite reliable for example when it comes to proofreading or word suggestions (even though I don't use them).

I am focusing on specific AI mediums that can be categorized as evil at its core. Anything related to chatbots, AI agents, data centers, hypersexualized AI images and videos; you get the point. One might say it's not that concerning; they are wrong. Those kinds of AI are integrated with inter-dimensional entities unlike the harmless ones. Plus, they are even biased on purpose when answering some questions.

ANIMAL ABUSE

There's this another major concern I have in regards of how people treat animals in my country; although this concern is not novel in the Philippines and it has always been like this for many decades now. When I changed my life, I even changed the way I eat and only devour foods that I find permissible to ingest; I did not become a vegan though. But as I put my lifestyle to practice, I realize how animal cruelty gets rampantly ignored; in fact, it's one of those ignored matters to discuss, probably more ignored than deforestation; even though we have no shortages of laws and acts to combat animal cruelty, you can still see the unreported elephant in the room being committed constantly by an average citizen.

A primary example of this would be someone slaughtering a tied up pig in their own backyard, with no anesthesia applied, of course; causing the pig to squeal and cry knowing how excruciating the pain would be as the slaughterer, or should I say murderer; drags his dull or sharp knife towards the crying meat. The example scenario is pretty common in my country and every one of us here are already used to it since we were still kids. I am not saying that killing rats or cockroaches in an infested place should be outlawed; just use common sense when I say animal abuse.

Your neighbor may have already done such crime; or it may be a family member, a friend, whoever that may be; all for the sake of putting delicacies on the table for some 18 year old girl's debut birthday that takes place in a five-star hotel, or in a fucking kids' Christmas party, or in some church gathering; along with them mentioning and praising the name of Jesus after the torturous slaughter of course. The amount of loosh they've produced after killing the animal and praying over it in the name of Jesus is one of the most normalized evil done in my environment.

I don't remember a single politician in my country advocating for a huge campaign to battle animal cruelty, at least to my own knowledge, but if one would ever speak about the concern; it gets easily forgotten the next day or two; and if the said campaign would be remembered for how long; they, the campaign organizers and politicians, do not practice heavy justice and severe punishments against the lawless. Not even the major religions in this country could give a heavy hand to take action; is it not in their holy scriptures that anyone who abuses an animal will face severe condemnation? Some will scream "Animal rights! Animal rights!" But animal rights is just another useless propagandistic act engineered by the government, it couldn't help the abusive pandemic and it has never done anything useful until now but fake and idiotic protests organized by people thinking they've done something to change their society.

ANIMAL ABUSE IS A SEVERE CRIME

Animal abuse is as severe as rape, substance abuse, and pedophilia. Etymologically speaking; animal came from the latin word animalis which literally means "to have a soul" or "to have breath". Words play a big role in our lives because we speak all the time; and everyone around me never put a second thought about it, all they care is fill their mouth with anything and be drunk and satisfied nonstop. Everyone is mostly catholic in my country; many are an awful bunch of idolaters or hypocrites. They are satisfied with their bible verses, their loosh absorbing carved statues, and their weekly visits to their churches, but they barely put those to dedicated practice, it's like a person happy and heavy with pride because he is intelligent in mathematics, but stupid to have any idea where to apply the equation in the real world.

There are countless snuff videos being shared by average netizens on Facebook involving soulless people committing despicable horrors towards cats and dogs in various regions of my country. One real example is a video of someone grabbing a helpless white cat and threw her off the bridge; I assume the height of that bridge was probably equivalent to a 17-story building; it was really that high the cat shrunk quickly and vanished as she fell away. But by some miracle, the cat survived from the fall and was undoubtedly injured. A bunch of good Samaritans immediately went for a search and rescue then rushed the poor mammal to the nearest vet center; the abuser was later discovered to be some sort of nepo baby and a son of a police officer. I don't remember the full story but it was something like that.

The cat was thankfully saved; but that was only one case.

PORNOGRAPHY PANDEMIC

These are real accounts from survivors.

Another symptom of a sick world that's depressingly overlooked and is equivalent to animal cruelty is pornographic consumption and addiction, this sort of accessible content is normalized as an animal getting painfully slaughtered, and Philippines is one of the major ranks of porn consumption. The widespread digital drug is being claimed as healthy according to some doctors and normal according to many influencers; sometimes you would hear these claims from your own friends. Because many would rather listen to the advice of their no-better peers, they unknowingly connected themselves to a hive mind of an ignorant and dangerous worldview. They think-- no, believe, that watching two or more people violently fucking on the screen makes a man more *manly a*nd a woman more liberated despite the consent that those actors and actresses have signed behind the scenes. Porn is the most powerful and the most colossal loosh machine ever integrated in the earth; in my opinion, slaughtering cattle with no anesthesia and treating a domesticated animal like trash is probably second to it;

third will be deforestation. You can simply do a YouTube search about human trafficking survivors and former sex workers that have escaped from the sex industry; listen to their testimonies. Every one of them have the same experience of how their managers would treat them; coercion is their number one strategy for these women. Today; these are one of the things your own degenerate friends call normal, this includes the "politically correct" people who are elevated by their audiences and some other group call this freedom or liberating or empowering.

Anyone involved in a pornographic scene are participating in a hazing or humiliation ritual, it's immaterial if one will say "but there's consent involved." I'm telling you right away, anyone who says that are directly defending the industry.

According to a trafficking survivor who witnessed it all, she said that anyone who pays for OnlyFans, or by just clicking and viewing a video in PornHub or other pornographic sites for free means that they are instantly funding human-trafficking without their awareness. Not a single politician in this country addresses that too, just like animal cruelty. If there is ever a campaign about it; I wonder about its status now, and if it does exist, have the authorities and organizers remained true to what they've sworn to be? If nothing changes, then the campaigns are just useless money-wasting organizations; giving another false hope to those who want to battle against it.

This is going to be a schizo-level claim but I have to say it; the pornography industry is secretly established and fattened by non-human beings called reptilians, at least from my hypothetical observation. Because according to Kyle Odom's manifesto, the reptilians are hypersexual; he got harassed nonstop by these demonic creatures via telepathic communication; they would transmit their sexual fantasies in his head to the point he had committed suicide twice but failed, their harassment on him via telepathy even deprived him from sleep. I admit how crazy these things begin to sound now and I don't blame you if you get weirded out by my claims but believe me; I am not the only one who notices these patterns. If Hollywood is owned by one of the most sadistic creatures living secretly and lavishly, then it shouldn't dawn us any surprise that they own the pornographic industry too. People's individual potential is the main target when it comes to porn; it hinders, and most of the time, kills their growth as a human being. All industries are connected to the pornographic industry.

SOLOMON FRIEDMAN

Speaking of my speculation about reptilians funding the sex industry, the current owner of the world's largest pornographic website PornHub is a jew by the way; Solomon Friedman. He was once a criminal defense attorney; defending immoral offenders like drunk drivers, people involved in distributing child pornography, and sex offenders. Again, it's no surprise that the world is being shaped through their Talmud; their holy scripture contains countless laws and regulations regarding sexual pleasure. Their Talmud even contains laws that permits the marriage of minors. They have defiled the Torah by claiming that their works are from the Torah. Corrupted at its core.

PORN IS A PSYCHOLOGICAL WEAPON

Weapons do not necessarily mean bullets and explosions; porn targets the body differently. Porn alters many parts of the brain making the victim lose their self-control if they do not act right away against it; many fail to do so. I have a name for weapons similar to porn; I call them soft weapons; music can also be an example of soft weaponry and there are so many songs that can be categorized as soft weapons, but let's discuss soft weapons in a different essay. Soft weapons do not need blood to be spilled in order to be lethal, all it needs is one thing; people's consent. All it takes is one naked woman moving in a screen to convert millions of men into a bunch of weak submissive infidels; not because men are already perverts since birth, but because biology and morality would never communicate each other well; think of it as how both flesh and spirit are always in conflict against each other. Many people would give in to their flesh.

People have given too much consent to these satan worshippers it came to an awful point humanity is just a play thing for them.

The patriarchy is bitter to us humans because it has been controlled by Satan for a long time. The patriarchy hates the feminine the most because Satan has enmity against women all the way back when Eve was tempted; that explains why the porn industry is flourishing; that explains why prostitution and human trafficking are one of the most ancient crimes ever. Instead of making a woman into a spritually glowing mother figure for her children and her family, they made her into a spiritually depraved sex object for any man to touch, and then the patriarchy itself will brainwash everyone by calling that freedom.

MY WARNING

I warn everyone to stop consuming porn. Please stop touching yourselves; don't let Satan and his children win; don't let your intrusive thoughts win; because vile intrusive thoughts don't belong to us, and don't be a cog in their loosh engine to the vile demiurge AKA Satan. Do not listen to whatever demonic advises your ignorant peers or the "professionals" would give you regarding porn, they are ignorant, so don't be like them. Remember, they will use scientific and research-based facts to convince you that porn is normal, they use it to shut you up and make you obey them; know that even the devil Satan attempted to use biblical verses to convince Yahusha (Jesus) when he was being tempted. Don't be a cog in their machine.

Porn is the only digital substance that anyone can easily access on the internet whilst screwing up your fulfillment in life. Porn is a meaningless activity, all it does is torture both your soul and dopamine receptors. Don't let the loosh minions test you; if you ever feel the urge to consume porn and touch yourself again, know that you are letting these satanic reptilian jews subjugate you.

EVERYONE LOST THEIR INTERESTS

The 2020s contain so many horrors to offer and it doesn't stop in gangstalking-like actions and slander from your worsened relatives or "friends"; nor in animal cruelty and a widespread pandemic of organic and synthetic pornography accessibility.

Many people started to lose interest in everything all of a sudden too, this is both a mental and spiritual sign of an altered frequency embedded inside people without their knowledge; this too is done by the secret echelons ruling the earth. Like I said in the very beginning of this essay, this is a worldwide realization. When I said that people have lost their interests in everything, I am not talking about a naturally occurring burn out or boredom. I am talking about people's emotions dissociating from everything for no reason, no matter how much they travel outside or find out their new hobbies or activities, the "blank" feeling is still there; no, it's not even depression. Some parts of this essay may not resonate to the reader, but that is fine; I personally do not have this "blank" feeling or some depression, but I can still sense the strange emotion emitted by someone else. Everything being said here are all eye-witness accounts not just from the author of this essay but it's also based from other people around the world.

I wish I could ask these questions on people outside of my family; people like my relatives, or maybe to some of my old classmates, or maybe to a stranger; but I know these questions are too hilarious for them to take seriously; you just know it. They might just scoff it off and escalate the conversation into a heated debate instead.

Rest assured, it doesn't matter what religion, beliefs, or philosophy that those people in the listed videos are leaning on. Whether their beliefs go against yours is immaterial; they have discovered the same phenomenon from their own environment in the end. People became apathetic and seemed to be more interested in strife than ever; reality has shifted since 2020, the aftermath of 2020 will alter more people with or without their awareness, the aftermath of 2020 will be absolute that the majority of humans must be in full submission to authority in the 2030s; whether or not submitting to the machine is against their will. If a person's courage is only caused by the awareness that their table doesn't run out of food, then they have no courage. Most people's number one fear is when they realize they have nothing to cook and eat anymore for tomorrow; that's how much of an easy prey an average human being can be, and to make the average human believe that his table is secured with food is to convince them and force them that they should obey to the so-called "superiors".

Anyone who has anything; and anyone that can obtain anything can have a sense of pride, satisfaction, and power about themselves; until all of a sudden, their pride's resources renders itself absent the next day. Money has always been a social construct and it's a spell from Mammon, a materialistic god; money is the lifeblood of a lot of people's happiness, because people's happiness are so dependent on materialism. And in the near future; physical money will be phased out and fiat money will be converted to digital.

THE YOUNG ARE LOOKING OLDER AND AGING FASTER

A 20 year old gen-z looks a lot older than their age, not all of them mind you; but many of my fellow generation are. I consider this a blessing that I personally look a few years younger than my age (at least based from the perspective of everybody around me and not mine, including my family's); I believe this is due to a changed lifestyle. I mean-- I still looked younger way before altering my life for the better. But I can see the differences of myself than before.

There's this one self-portrait of a woman and I legitimately believed she was on her mid 30s. If it wasn't for the number balloons behind her photoshoot that stated her age; 26, I would've guessed it wrongly and she would've been 30 in my point of view. She's only a year older than me, but she looks one decade older. Some of you might say: "She's just lying about her age probably." If that's the case, then I hope so; I hope you're right, I hope that she was just lying about her real age, but that's just impossible. That photoshoot wasn't just one eye-witness account; it's overwhelmingly everywhere, one can say that stress plays a factor in this, while it's true that an average gen-z is more stressed than their predecessors; stress on the other hand, is too mild to be the main reason for a 20 plus year old appearing like they are in their mid 30s to 40s. I do not have a tiktok account; but based on various YouTubers discussing about this similar subject, they were showing tiktok videos of girls as young as 12 already looking 18; dancing in front of the camera like how a typical tiktok influencer would do; it's uncanny. Those little girls acting like a bunch of women who just hit puberty seem to have no childhood. Generation Alpha could barely read and spell, most of their childhood are compiled into brainrot, tiktok dances, and excessive screaming. These are but methods of deep state brainwashing; the governments know this and they are doing a great job at making future generations dumber.

COVID-19 VACCINES

I remember the COVID vaccine can indeed make someone age faster and look older. Of course, the "professionals" and its followers would call this as just another conspiracy theory; calling you a schizo paranoiac for believing in things that aren't backed by their science and expertise, just like how that same vaccine have done lots of reported injuries and deaths like myocarditis and abnormally occurring strains of blood clots. Unfortunately, we all know the mainstream media will never tell everyone about the vaccine's real purpose. Every COVID vaccine distributors and manufacturers are culprits; Pfizer, Sinovac, AstraZeneca, Sputnik V, Moderna, Johnson and Johnson or J & J etc...

The reported symptoms and injuries caused by the COVID vaccines are:

1. Sudden myocarditis
2. Sudden organ failure (can be multiple organs failing at once)
3. Abnormal strain of blood clots (both in live and dead bodies)
4. Abnormal size of cancer cells
5. Personality changes
6. Seizures and uncontrollable body spasms
7. Joint pains
8. Stabbing chest pain (needle-like or knife-like sensation)
9. Mild or severe stroke
10. Sudden shortness of breath and dizziness
11. Rapid aging
12. Paralysis
13. blindness or deafness

And many more...

The enumerated symptoms above are not cherry-picked. Those are real common accounts coming from the reports of doctors, embalmers, and average people. "Fact checkers" heavily deny all these claims; even Reuters, a media known for fact checking many lies "debunked" these things. The media have been a bunch of liars for years, even the alternative media cannot be trusted anymore; everything is just a shit-show.

A RELATIVE'S SHOCKING DEATH

I know one relative who immediately died from myocarditis a few years ago. He was a triathlon athlete; although he smoked like a car exhaust, one can immediately jump to the conclusion that his vices could be the factor. But he had been breathing nicotine smoke for many years yet not a single part of his body malfunctioned before taking the vaccine. He moved like an active teenager. Having myocarditis all of a sudden while riding a bike early in the morning is not only an unexpected cause of death, but also something to be suspicious about; you just know it in your guts on what caused my relative's sudden passing; such tragedies like that are a no brainer at this point. Not one of us family members and relatives have expected his death, he was healthy as heck despite his chimney-like smoking habits. According to medical reports; the doctors traced his sudden death to his genetics; specifically they traced it back to his paternal grandfather.

This is what I and a lot of people have been saying, they cover everything up by using science and research-based reports to hide the truth. Claiming that the COVID vaccine has never killed anyone is an old lie that many don't believe anymore. Anyone who denies this in the year 2026 and beyond is either a gatekeeper or just plain ignorant. The vaccine is a crime against humanity; it was never a cure and it never will be. The vaccine has always been a eugenicist weapon and people consented to it. Anyone who says that these are just coincidences are still asleep.

BOBBY NALZARO

Another irrefutable example of a sudden death caused by the COVID vaccine was from a famous local news reporter and journalist in my province; Bobby "Super Bob" Nalzaro. In March 2022, Nalzaro died from a sudden multiple organ failure and a hypertension that provided him a stroke. He had no underlying conditions that caused him his instant passing. He was a healthy and noisy 58 year-old newscaster; at least that was before he took the experimental jab.

Yes, Nalzaro was a strong supporter for the COVID vaccine; he was an easy prey for their cabal Jewish psyop. He was as gullible as most people in this country.

Here's a little story a few months before Nalzaro's sudden death; there was this radio broadcast of him having a heated debate against a pastor and started mocking him; he was betting the pastor with ego-boosted confidence that he was downright wrong, and if he would ever still be alive two years after taking the vaccine, he would come back at him and spit on the pastor's face. Nalzaro didn't even get a chance to live and see one whole year after he took his first dose. He ate his own words after mocking the pastor.

Based pastor: 1 - Cabal-abiding goy Nalzaro: 0.

KIM JUNG GI

In my opinion, he is still the greatest illustrator in this era even after his death back in October 2022. He died through a sudden heart attack. But before that happened, he was experiencing chest pains and got rushed to a nearby hospital. The tragedy seemed to happen so fast, the incident occurred when he was in Paris preparing for a flight to attend Comic Con at New York.

I discovered his death upon google searching his name because I wanted to see more of his works. The number one search suggestion that popped out was Kim Jung Gi death; I was shocked but skeptical, I thought that that was just one of those death hoax fabricated by random retards on the internet. Immediately my interest shifted; it was no hoax. And the fact that his death occurred the same day I searched his name made my eyes wide open; one heck of an unanticipated timing.

At that time his death went viral on a website called BitChute. The South Korean legend is known on the internet as Superani; he died at age 47.

A SUDDEN INJURY FROM ANOTHER BELOVED RELATIVE

The injury happened in late January 2022; my maternal grandfather (peace be upon him) couldn't breathe all of a sudden in the middle of lunch time; the frightening scenario took place at my slanderous relative's house; I wish I was there so I could help him. He passed out in the dining room and his face turned purple; a probable indicator of cyanosis. Only my mom and one of my cousins managed to help poor grandpa, the rest of the relatives were only watching; some even went upstairs and didn't bother to help. That wasn't grandpa's time yet (thank effing goodness), believe it or not mom prayed in the name of YHWH by whispering through grandpa's ear; he breathed normally in an instant afterwards; by instant I mean just milliseconds after she prayed. Grandpa was fully unconscious, he couldn't remember a single thing on what happened to him as he went back to normal. Mom told dad and I everything about it. Grandpa took the vaxx against his will, the same thing for grandma.

A few months before grandpa passed out in my relative's house; his health began to deteriorate. He never wanted to get jabbed, but because he was voiceless and cannot speak for his own well-being, he was under the command of my other relative who works as a doctor; he just went silent and got marked against his will along with poor grandma. As time went by, he went into severe depression; he was dramatically aging and started moving slower, then we lost him in mid 2025. There will be no other good-hearted human being like grandpa, and grandma is all that's left; bless her soul.

Before continuing the story, I must tell everyone again that none of the accounts written in this essay are exaggerated nor removed; these events did actually happen in my life. 2022 was the most demonic era for me; Satan was winning, he will always be a murderer and an invader of peace.

At evening, a couple hours after grandpa's unexpected incident, my cousin who assisted grandpa had an injury of her own. One of her calves was covered in purple, a very big and deep purple bruise. My cousin was on the verge of panicking and started crying while my mom got worried. By an unknown reason, the giant bruise on her calf just disappeared.

RAPID INCREASE OF POPULATION DEATHS FROM MY MATERNAL GRANDPARENTS' NEIGHBORHOOD

I can no longer tell how many people, both young and old, have died in their neighborhood throughout the span of four years and counting. Heart attacks are the most common causes of deaths; others diabetes, according to a relative and some medical reports. In fact, the deaths got so overwhelming everyone from different towns started asking the same question: "How come so many people have died in there?" Sheesh, I wonder why too.

Remember; four years and counting, if my memory serves me right, it all started in 2022. Imagine how many have died in the current year of 2026 from that same neighborhood. Nobody seemed to talk about it anymore.

My grandparents' residence used to be clothed with nature and open scenery; now its beauty died a long time ago and the current state of their home is surrounded by squatters, claustrophobia, unknown people, and violence. I didn't get to witness what they and mom have witnessed for an obvious reason; I'm a gen z. At least I've seen photos of the old neighborhood dating back in the 1970s; you could see the deteriorating evolution of our society by just referencing one image of the past versus now. By the year 2027, grandma's house will be no more but a memory in a photograph or in a social media post; the government will convert the neighborhood into a highway. Everyone living in the neighborhood will be gone and only YHWH knows what happens to all of them. Both people and the beloved stray animals alike.

WHAT ABOUT THE PEOPLE THAT TOOK IT BUT DIDN'T DIE?

The working-class citizens who just want a normal life are undoubtedly scared upon discovering one of the biggest crimes of the century, because there are countless of them who got jabbed. There are people who still don't believe in any of these despite the amount of evidence shown; why? Because they're not scientifically backed by experts, the claims didn't come from their "professionals". They'll end up debating you by using mainstream statistics claiming that nobody have either died or have faced injuries from the vaccine. Deadly effects caused by the COVID vaccines are complex; some would instantly die the day after their first dose, some would take boosters and unexpectedly die months after. Some only had it once and it took them a couple years being attacked by a sudden condition nobody would expect; not even themselves. And some had it more than once; added with booster shots, but have never suffered any injuries.

As Joe Biden once said in front of the camera and towards America and the whole world: "The vaccine is safe and effective."

Some were indeed injured either mildly or severely but they returned to normal as if nothing happened. As a result, they continue their way forgetting what happened; as if the conditions will not come back to them at any time now. Most average people have no idea how demonic these cabal worshiping echelons are; many of them are not even humans in the first place. They pollute the air from the commands of Satan; hence why Satan is called the prince of the air. They pollute it with chemtrails, satellite signals, smoke, 5G, lies, harmful nanotechnology, etc.

END

These accounts shouldn't go unpublished, little to no people may read my essay but it won't matter. I am sick to the stomach knowing that all my bizarre and at the same time depressing experiences in the 2020s fall into the category of "conspiracy theories" or "paranoiac episodes" in the eyes of many ignorant people. There are so many things happening right now and I have only covered just a few of them.

I will be discussing in an in-depth manner to all of the problems enumerated in this essay; so don't worry, there will be more in the future. My plan is to write more topics relevant to Aftermath of 2020. Once again, I have so many bizarre but truthful topics I want to talk about. The 2020s is undoubtedly a time of struggle and realization for many people. To anyone who wants to support me, thank you for doing so and thank you for reading this essay.
